

I benefit from listening to XM Satellite Radio and its traffic and weather channels. I drive a long route to work (65 miles) and the signal quality regardless of my location allows me to hear the traffic and weather when I need it. Frankly I'm disappointed that the FCC is considering something that would limit my ability to choose my information gathering medium.